

Asia-Pacific Federation

APF of the World Council for Gifted and Talented Children

Professional Development Institute for Gyeonggi Provincial Teachers for the Gifted

Professional development institute for 42 Gyeonggi Provincial Office of Education teachers on gifted education will be held from January 5th-19th of January, 2008 at St. John's University, in New York, U.S.A. Dr. Seokhee Cho, professor at St. John's University and immediate past president of the APF of the World Council for the Gifted and Talented Education will host the institute. Invited speakers include Dr. Joseph Renzulli, Director of the National Research Center for the Gifted and Talented, Dr. James Borland, Professor, Columbia University, Dr. Rita Dunn, Professor, St. John's University. Korean teachers will experience teaching the gifted in 5 schools in collaboration with NY teachers on gifted education for 5 days. They will also visit Bronx High School of Science, Stuyvesant High School of Math and Science, and Hunter College Elementary School and Secondary School. For more information, contact Dr. Seokhee Cho, chos1@stjohns.edu